

assuage

(verb) to ease or lessen; to appease or pacify

audacious

(adj.) daring and fearless; recklessly bold (noun form: audacity)

exculpate

exculpate verb (formal) to prove or state officially that sb is not guilty of sth

e.g.

- * The pilot of the aircraft will be exculpated when all the facts are known.
- * The jury had to exculpate the defendant due to lack of evidence.

(verb) exonerate, to clear of blame

---

exigent

(adj) urgent, pressing; requiring immediate action or attention

---

martial

(adj.) associated with war and the armed forces

---

mundane

- Definition: of or relating to this world or earth as contrasted with heaven; worldly; earthly; common; ordinary; banal; unimaginative.
- Example: Washing dishes and doing laundry are mundane activities.

(adj.) of the world; typical of or concerned with the ordinary

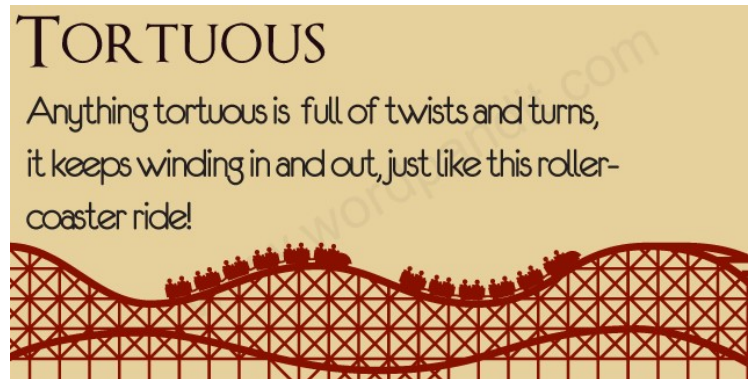

---

torque

(noun) a force that causes rotation

tortuous

(adj.) winding; twisting; extremely complicated

truculent

(adj.) fierce and cruel; eager to fight

veracity

Vera = truth in Latin Veracity = truthfulness

Vera the honest girl
has a lot of veracity.

(noun) truthfulness, honesty

squander

(verb) to waste by spending or using irresponsibly

static

(adj.) non moving, active, or in motion; at rest

The definition of static is showing little or no change or an electric charge.

An example of static is a car that remains in exactly the same place for a week.

An example of static is rubbing a balloon on one's hair and then have the balloon stick to a wall.