

avarice

(noun) greed, especially for wealth
(adj. form: avaricious)

heretical

(adj.) violating accepted dogma or convention, unorthodox; believing in or practicing religious heresy.

complaisance

WILLING TO PLEASE OTHER AFTER GETTING COMPLAINT

COMPAISANT CALL CENTRE WORKER

(noun) the willingness to comply with the wishes of others contentious

(adj.) argumentative; quarrelsome; causing controversy or disagreement didactic

(verb) intended to teach or instruct discretion

(noun) cautious reserve in speech; ability to make responsible decisions
(adj. form: discrete) empirical

(adj.) based on observation or experiment enigmatic

(adj.) mysterious, obscure, difficult to understand facetious

(adj.) playful; humorous

fallacy

(noun) an invalid or incorrect notion; a mistaken belief

gregarious

(adj.) sociable; outgoing; fond of the company of others

harangue

(verb)/(noun) To deliver a loud, ranting speech or writing; a loud speech;
